MULTICLET provides services for the development and production of special products according to customer requirements

For industries: • Multicellular processors system-on-chip (SoC) with specialization (for peripheral, high-speed performance, power consumption and other parameters), focused on the needs of the customer • Special multicellular processors system-in-package (SiP), if customer needs the integration of additional elements.	Submit order
For design-centers: • Multicellular processor cores targeted for inclusion in customer projects • Multicellular processors and Multicellular processor cores, included in system-in-package (SiP) of the customer	Submit order

Phoca PDF