

Multiclet

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Multiclet is a technical term that defines processor core or processor with multicellular architecture.<sup>[1]</sup> The author of multicellular architecture is Nikolay Strekozov<sup>[2]</sup>, the term 'multiclet' was coined by Denis Lyjzenov, the Doctor of Engineering.

Multiclet is a trademark.<sup>[3]</sup>

Multiclet Corp. is a Russian company dealing with creation, production and market launch of high-performance detachable processor cores and processors with low power consumption designed on the base of multicellular architecture.<sup>[4]</sup>

Multiclet Corp.

Смотри статью в журнале "Компоненты и Технологии"